Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 11 July 2004.
 2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.
 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Arntson et al. (US 2004/0262020).

Regarding claim 1, Arntson et al. teaches proximity measurement with at least two different inclinations of the holding element with respect to a planar body's surface (par. 27), and wherein the proximity measurements results reflect relative position of the tool/sensor with respect to the planar surface (par. 25).

Regarding claim 2, Arntson et al. teaches computing precise position of a tool/sensor with respect to a holder (par. 9).

Regarding claim 3, Arntson et al. teaches using a holder with multiple types of actuators or positioning motors, wherein some actuators or motors provide coarse positioning of the holder or tool with respect to the holder and others are capable of achieving higher precision positioning of the holder or of the tool/sensor with respect to the holder (par. 59).

Regarding claim 4, Arntson et al. teaches computing precise position of a tool/sensor with respect to a holder for at least one predefined position of actuators capable of adjusting position of the tool with respect to the tool holder (par. 40).

Regarding claims 5 and 6, Arntson et al. teaches that the apparatus contains more than one sensor that responds to proximity, pressure, force, electric field, or any other factors in some extent dependent from relative position of the tool, and these sensors may be arranged in ordered pattern (par. 38).

Regarding claims 7 and 8, Arntson et al. teaches using data of multiple measurements and computing positions of different regions of a tool or multiple tools/sensors (par. 46).

Regarding claims 9 and 10, Arntson et al. teaches using data of multiple sensors and computing positions of different regions of tool (par. 46).

Conclusion

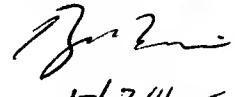

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Meagan S. Walling whose telephone number is (571) 272-2283. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8:30 AM to 5 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Barlow can be reached on (571) 272-2269. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
